

As a member of the International Sports Engineering Association (ISEA), you can apply for support to help you to engage and collaborate with the sports engineering community.

Our funds can be used to meet new contacts around the world, develop your special engineering skills and open up an exciting range of possibilities when looking for the next stage of your sports engineering career.

Examples of how your grant could be used:

- Travel costs for group visits to sports engineering companies
- Travel or accommodation costs for individual visits to other institutions or companies with the intention to collaborate on area of study
- Travel or accommodation costs for speakers at invitational guest lecture or seminar event (to be organised by the applicants, speaker to be an ISEA member)
- Organisation of public engagement event involving Sports Engineering (applicant must be a speaker or part of organising committee)
- Prize funds for Sports Engineering related competitions (organised by applicants)
- Other initiatives will be considered.

Awards

We can award individual grants up to £500 and group grants up to £1000.

Applications are assessed on a quarterly basis based after the following quarterly deadlines:
